

Dairy Cattle Testing for Avian Influenza

Cattle Classes Affected by the Federal Order

Class of Cattle	Test?
Bull or heifer calves	No
Breeding heifers	No
Dry cows	No
Bulls	No
Lactating cows going directly to slaughter	No
Lactating cows going to slaughter via auction	No
Lactating cows going to a dairy in another state	Yes
Lactating cows going to a show in another state	Yes

Samples can be dropped off at the NDA Animal Disease Lab in Sparks, Nev. for transfer, or can be sent directly to one of the NALHN Labs:

Washington Animal Disease Diagnostic Lab (WADDL)

1940 SE Olympia Ave, Pullman, WA 99164
Phone: (509) 335-9696

CAHFS Davis - University of California, Davis

620 W. Health Sciences Drive, Davis, CA 95616
Phone: (530) 752-8700

Utah Veterinary Diagnostics Lab (UVDL)

950 East 1400 North, Logan, UT 84341
Phone: (435) 797-1895

Sampling Guidelines

- Cows must be tested within 7 days prior to movement.
- If fewer than 30 cattle are moving, all cattle must be tested. If more than 30 are moving, then only 30 animals must be tested.
- Samples must be collected by a licensed veterinarian or an approved sample collector.
- Samples must be from individual cows. DO NOT POOL SAMPLES. All four quarters must be sampled. Submit 3-10 ml per cow.
- Keep samples cool prior to submission. If shipping samples, use insulated containers with an ice pack.
- USDA will cover the cost of the test, but not the cost of sample collection or shipping.

Lactating cows moving to slaughter must have a health certificate or other documentation acceptable to NDA and the state of destination.

Positive Herds:

- No movement of lactating cattle for at least 30 days. Cows must have a negative re-test before movement is allowed.
- Farm must provide records of all cattle movements and complete a questionnaire.
- Positive detections must be reported to the NDA State Veterinarian at diseasereporting@agri.nv.gov and USDA APHIS at HPAI.Results@usda.gov.

For more information on biosecurity and livestock disease, email DiseaseReporting@agri.nv.gov.