

Nevada Wildlife Services Program

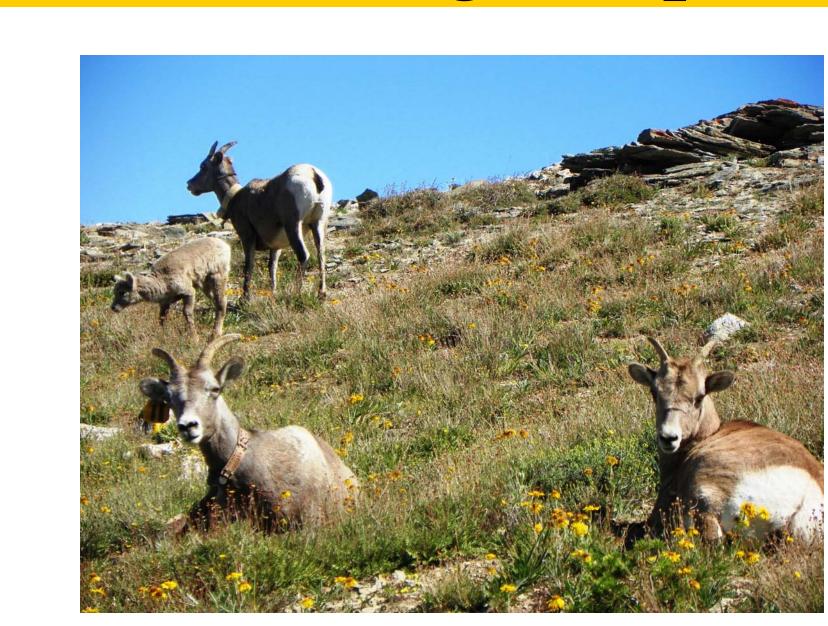

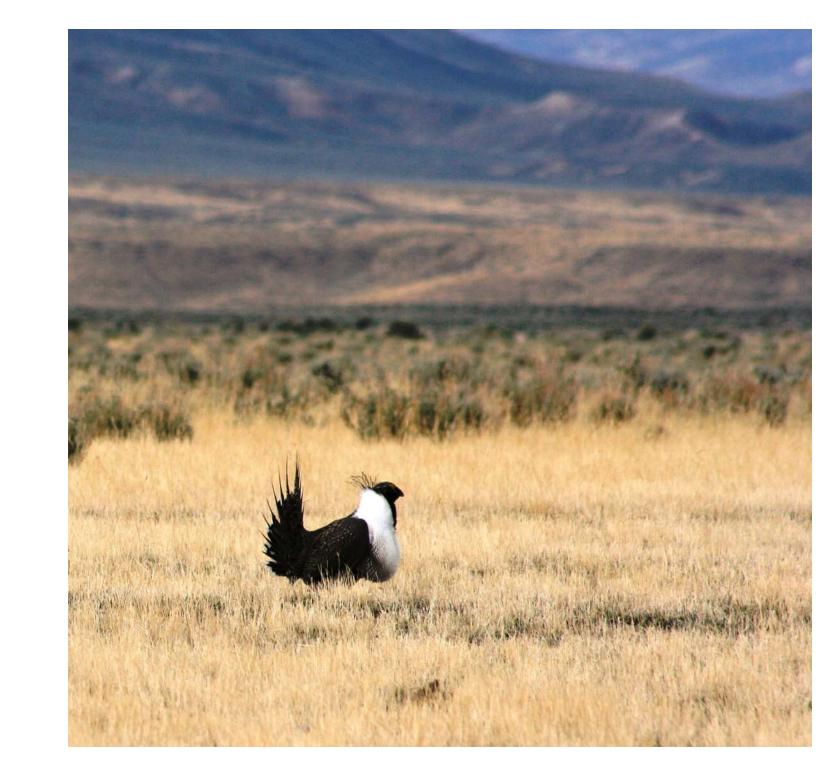

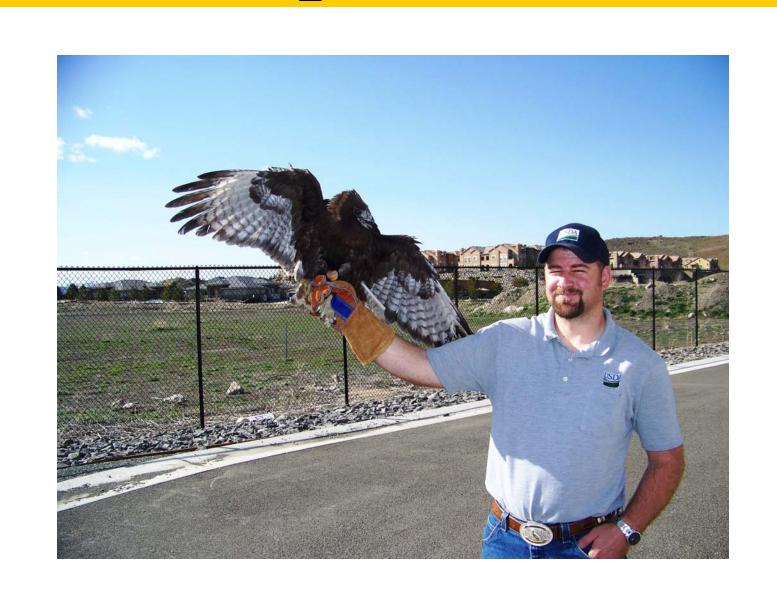

The Nevada Wildlife Services Program protects sheep, cattle, and other livestock from excessive predation from coyotes, mountain lions, and ravens.

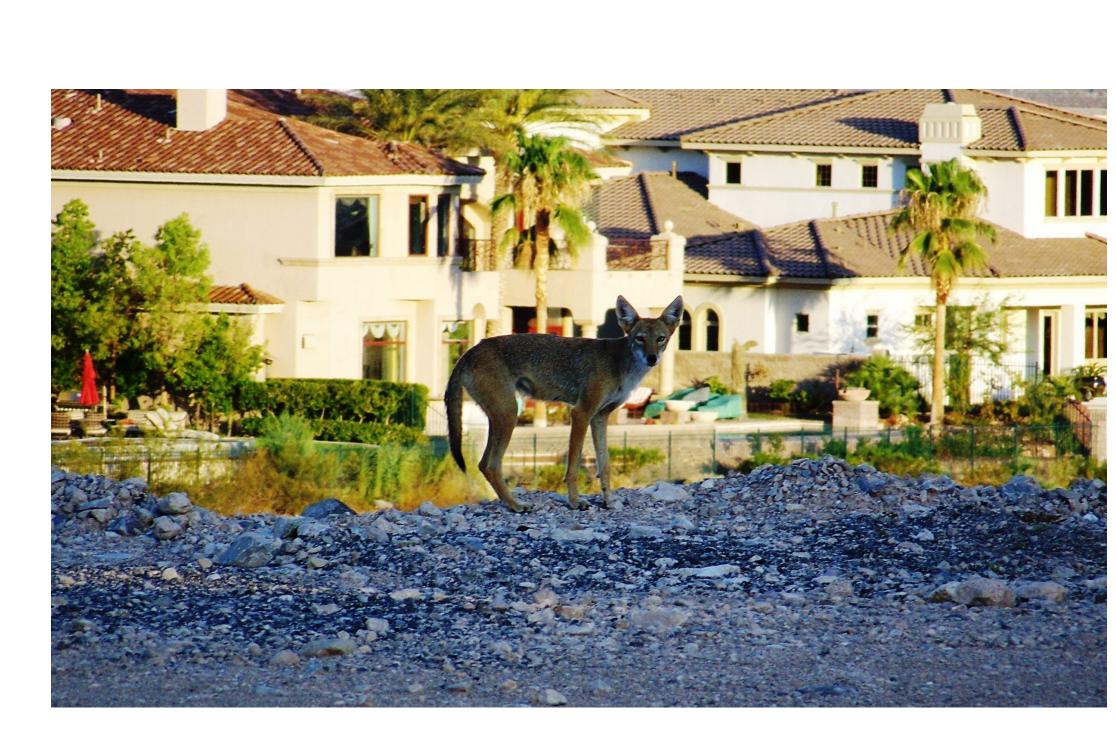

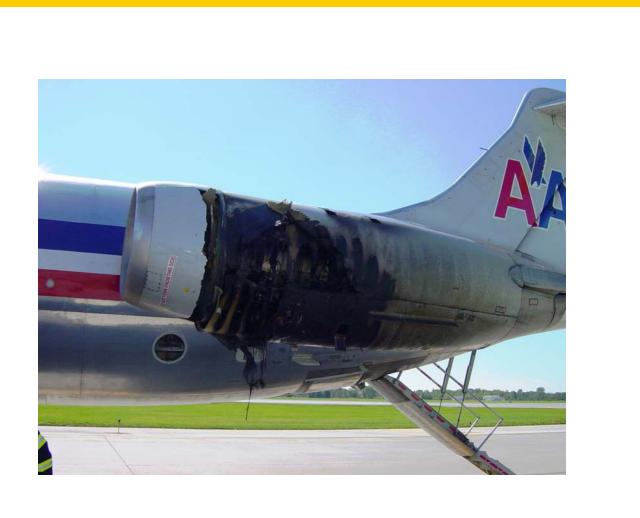

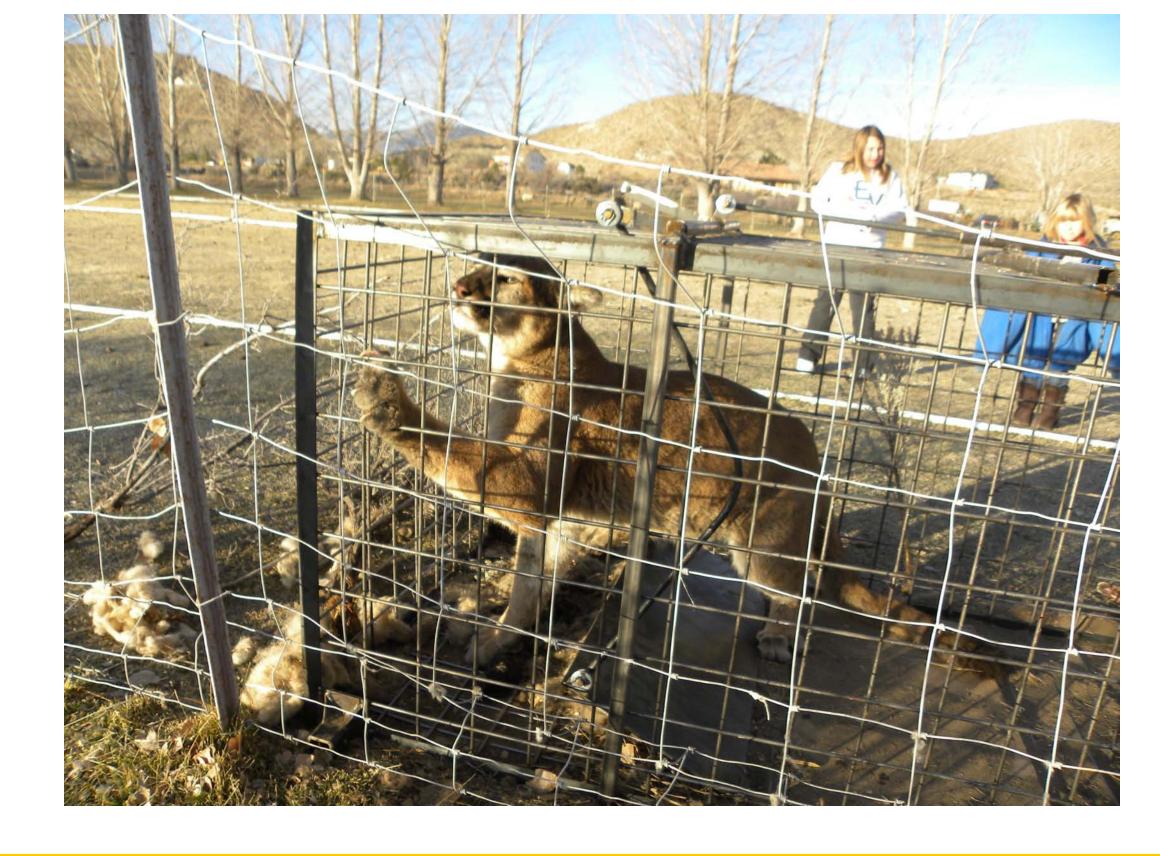

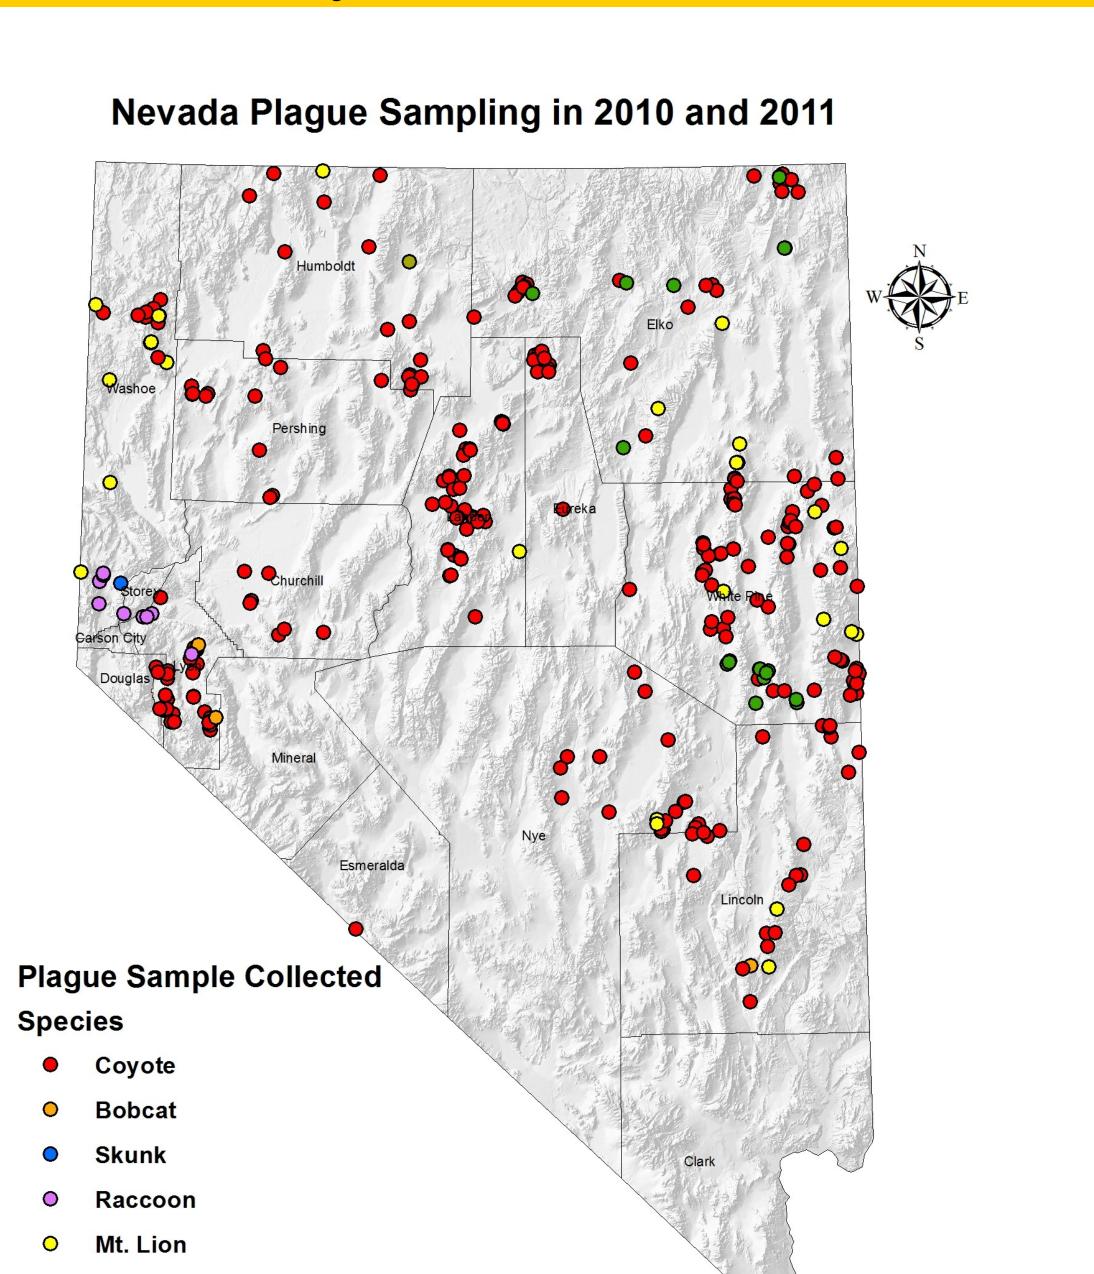

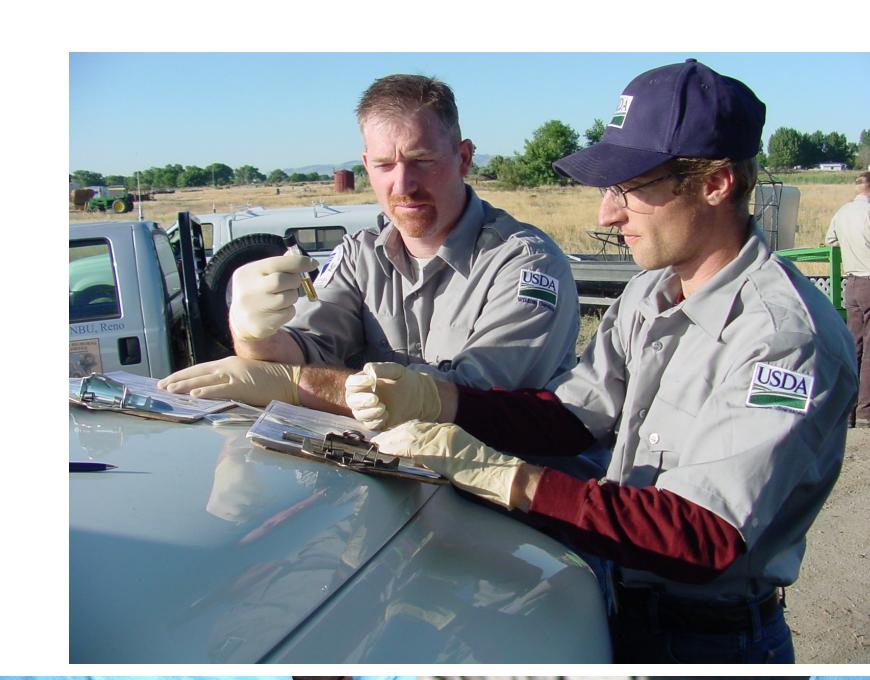

WS protects sage grouse, mule deer and bighorn sheep from predation, protects human health and safety, and monitors for zoonotic diseases such and plague and rabies.

In 2011, WS helped Nevada's ranchers, farmers, and wildlife managers protect over $360 million in resources.